DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2, 4, 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mehl et al. (3,051,155). See Figs 9-14. The device would inherently start a trimmer with rigid blades.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3, 5-6, 8-9, 11-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mehl et al. (3,051,155). The type of switch such as a foot switch or reversing switch or the shape of the shaft appear, absent a showing of criticality, to be obvious matters to be determined by one of ordinary skill in the art.

Claims 15-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mehl et al. (3,051,155) in view of Cho (2002/0144408). The device of Mehl engages the blades of a lawn mower to start it. Cho shows that trimmers with rigid blades are old as shown in Fig 5. The trimmer is powered by an IC engine. One of ordinary skill in the art would obviously use the device of Mehl to start IC powered trimmers such as the one of Fig 5 of Cho. Note that pressure actuated switches and pedal starters are old and well known for switching electric motors.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 7 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim Objections

The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

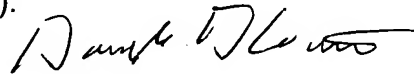

Misnumbered claims 7 (second occurrence) -16 been renumbered 8-17.
